

After enabling ultra-low latency live streaming, can users enjoy ultra-low latency when watching on all devices?

After enabling ultra-low latency live streaming, ultra-low latency is supported when viewing on the following terminals:

- WeChat H5 (not supported on systems below iOS 12/Android 8 and some Huawei models for now)
- Web browsers (most browsers such as Google Chrome, 360 Browser, and Cheetah Browser are supported, but Safari is not)
- Mini Programs and the desktop version of WeChat will be supported in the future
