

How can live course students download course materials?

I. Feature Introduction

Merchants can upload relevant courseware on the instructor's end, and then students can download the relevant courseware on their mobile phones and computers, which improves the students' review effect after class.

II. Purpose of Use

By downloading the courseware, students can study the live - streamed courses repeatedly in combination with the live replay content, thus enhancing the learning effect. They can also achieve this by repeatedly studying the courseware.

III. Use Scenarios

Teacher Zhang San conducts training for the sales staff in the company via live streaming. However, the sales staff usually face high work pressure and rarely have time for online review outside of class hours, resulting in less - than - satisfactory learning results. So, Teacher Zhang San shares the courseware with his students through elink live streaming. After downloading the courseware, the students watch and study it repeatedly during their free time, and both their learning effect and performance have improved significantly!
